

October 10, 2008

Car of missing GSU student found in Maryland

Associated Press

The car belonging to a missing Grambling State University student has been found abandoned in Maryland. Authorities say 27-year-old Michelle McMullen, of Harrisburg, Pa., was last seen on the night of Sept. 28 in Pennsylvania.

Investigators say she had dropped off her 6-year-old son with relatives and was headed back to GSU, where she's enrolled as a freshman majoring in Spanish.

Ruston Police said Thursday that nothing seemed out of place when they checked McMullen's home. However, the woman's Honda Accord was found a day earlier just off Interstate 81 in Hagerstown, Md.

McMullen's family says she has not used her cell phone or debit card since the night she left Harrisburg.

---